

Portfolio Project

Mapping Your Content

Outline the categories you intend to use on your portfolio, start broad and work your way down until you have an outline of all of the categories, pages, and child pages you want to include. The example below is one way of mapping your content, but there is no right or wrong way to plan what you will archive and share.

Keep in mind that what and how you want to share via your portfolio will continue to evolve. Don't hesitate to reorganize your site on regular basis as your goals and target audiences are reconceived and refined.

Categories	Pages	Child Pages
Welcome Page	Welcome
	About Me
Education	History	Unofficial Transcript
	Record	List institutions/courses
	Goals
	Courses	Individual Courses
Career	Goals	Reflection
	Inventory	Resume
	Documentation	Reference Letters
Skills	Group Work	Artifact and Reflection
	Learning Practices	Reflection
	Research	Artifact
Hobbies/Extracurricular	Hobbies	Photos, reflections
Contact me	Contact Form

Adapted from "Mapping Your Content to Find Your Theme" with the permission of ePortfolio Support at TRU.